

In re: Application of John J. Park

Serial No. 10/813,199

Filed: March 29, 2004

For: GOLF TEE HAVING A WIRE SUPPORT FOR A GOLF BALL

IN THE ABSTRACT

Please amend the Abstract in the following manner.

A support device having a support wire with a series of bends for supporting a golf ball from a golf tee, the support wire extending from and being attached to the side of the head of the tee or the side of a self-supporting base. The support wire also being attached to the tee or the self-supporting base by [[means]] way of removable springs.